STRIKING CHALLENGES

Some questions for you...

- Is your service agent not aware who is calling?
- Do your agents need too much clicks and time spend on contacting a single person?
- Is your service department spending too much time on registering and reporting on calls and discussed topics?
- Is your telephony setup not connected to the customer data?
- Is tracking of phone call efficiency, productivity and content a challenge?

CTI

Telephony integrating for increased productivity

Lower your agent's average handle times and improve customer satisfaction by turning clicks into calls with the computer-telephony integration. With extended services of CTI and a seamless CRM integration across every channel, you enable your sales and service agents with just what they need to make every conversation great. It's easy to see how the flexible, private, and reliable CTI creates all-around better sales and service experiences.

KNOW WHO'S CALLING

With a seamless CTI, you connect your CRM data to your phone services. By connecting the incoming call automatically to an account and/or case in your Salesforce CRM, you know immediately who's calling, what the history of that person is with your company and how you can best serve this individual.

Give your customers the attention they deserve with automatic

ROUTING & PRIORITIZATION

Due to the implementation of automatic, skills-based routing of incoming calls, your relevant agents can best serve your customers. The routing of incoming calls enables a relevant, faster and integrated phone service. Also, you can prioritize your calls based on status of customers, so loyal customers can have additional perks for their loyal behavior.

Discover everything about your business
